HESTON MUSIC ARCHIVE by artist Barby Asante is an exhibition inviting you to listen, share and contribute your musical memories.

This exhibition marks the first in a series of artistic commissions from Peckham Platform in partnership with University of the Arts London at Heston Community School. Asante has worked with Heston's Visual Arts, Media and Music departments on this new artwork celebrating and investigating music and memory. The exhibition will feature film showcasing students' inheritance tracks, an interactive SMS map as well as listening posts and your music memorabilia.

You are invited to contribute to this new artwork by bringing along your memories and memorabilia. All items in the archive will be loaned on a temporary basis and returned to you at the end of the exhibition. We welcome your vinyl, cassettes, gig tickets, t-shirts, journals amongst other items. The archive will accumulate over the duration of the exhibition to form a portrait of the musical interests of Heston Community School.
