

WHISTLEBLOWING POLICY

Updated: January 2019
Next Review: January 2022

This Policy is founded within our School ethos which provides a caring, friendly and safe environment for all members of our community.

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 Heston Community School is committed to the highest possible standards of openness, probity and accountability in the delivery of its services to its students, staff, parents and the general community. Whilst the Academy has put in place a wide range of rules, regulations, procedures and codes of practice to deliver this commitment, malpractice and/or wrongdoing unfortunately may occur. The School expects the highest standards of conduct from all employees and governors and will treat seriously any concern raised about illegal or improper conduct.
- 1.2 This Policy applies to all Employees and Governors. Other individuals performing functions in relation to the organisation, such as agency workers and contractors, should have access to it.
- 1.3 It is important to the School that any fraud, misconduct or wrongdoing by employees or Governors of the School is reported and properly dealt with. The Governing Body will, therefore, respond to all individuals who raise any genuine concerns, which are in the public interest, that they may have about the conduct of others in the School. This policy sets out the way in which individuals may raise any concerns that they have and how those concerns will be dealt with.
- 1.4 Any individual covered by this Policy will be expected, through agreed procedures and without fear of recrimination, to bring to the attention of the Headteacher [or the Chair of Governors if the concerns relate to the Headteacher] any serious impropriety or breach of procedure.
- 1.5 Employees who do not follow the steps identified in this procedure or other agreed internal procedures, and take their concerns to other outside sources [eg the press], may be subject to a formal disciplinary investigation.

2.0 Background

- 2.1 The law provides protection for employees who raise legitimate concerns about specified matters. These are called 'qualifying disclosures' A qualifying disclosure is one made in the public interest by the employee who has a reasonable belief that:

- A criminal offence
- A miscarriage of justice
- An act creating risk to health and safety
- An act causing damage to the environment
- Corruptly receiving any gift or advantage, thus failing to comply with the Bribery Act 2010
- Allowing private interests to override the interests of the School
- A breach of any legal obligation or
- Concealment of any of the above

is being, has been, or is likely to be, committed. It is not necessary for the employee to have proof that such an act is being, has been, or is likely to be committed, a reasonable belief is sufficient. The employee has no responsibility for investigating the matter; it is the School's responsibility to ensure that an investigation takes place.

- 2.2 Where the concerns are about safeguarding children or young people, the School's Designated Safeguarding Lead should be notified [cf Section 7.0 below].

- 2.3 It is a procedure in which the Headteacher or Chair of Governors will be expected to act swiftly and constructively in the investigation of any concerns in accordance with the School's Disciplinary Procedure.
- 2.4 Concern about a colleague's professional capability should not be dealt with using this procedure [but see Section 7.0 below].

3.0 When should it be used?

- 3.1 This procedure is for disclosures about matters other than a breach of an employee's own contract of employment. If an employee is concerned that his/her own contract has been, or is likely to be, broken he/she should use the school's Grievance procedures.

Where a disclosure is merely an expression of opinion that fails to show that a legal obligation has been or is likely to be breached, it cannot amount to a protected or qualifying disclosure for the purposes of the whistleblowing legislation

- 3.2 This procedure is not designed to replace or be used as an alternative to the Grievance Procedure, which should be used where an employee is only aggrieved about his/her own situation. Nor should this Policy apply where the employee simply disagrees with the way the School is run.
- 3.3 Employees must have reasonable grounds for believing the information they have is accurate and not just idle gossip or rumour.
- 3.4 An employee who makes such a protected disclosure has the right not to be dismissed, subject to any other detriment, or victimised, because s/he has made a disclosure, provided it has not been made maliciously. Any employee who uses this procedure will not be penalised for doing so. The employer will not tolerate harassment and/or victimisation of any employee raising concerns.
- 3.5 An employee who is not sure whether the conduct s/he is concerned about does constitute illegal or improper conduct or is unsure about how to proceed may contact the HR Manager, Trade Union or Public Concern at Work is a registered charity which promotes accountability and good governance in organisations and responsibility amongst individuals. Its lawyers can give you free, confidential advice at any stage about how to raise a concern about serious wrongdoings or malpractice at work.

- 3.6 Financial regulations require that any suspicion of fraud, corruption or other financial irregularity is reported to Internal Audit for possible investigation. Normally an employee must first report any suspicion of such an irregularity to the Headteacher or Chair of Governors [but see Section 5.0], who will, in turn, report it to Internal Audit. The EFSA must also be informed in such cases.

4.0 Principles

- 4.1 Any matter raised under this procedure will be investigated thoroughly, promptly and confidentially, and the outcome of the investigation reported back to the employee who raised the issue.
- 4.2 No employee will be victimised for raising a matter under this procedure. This means that the continued employment and opportunities for future promotion or training of the employee will not be prejudiced because s/he has raised a legitimate concern.
- 4.3 Victimisation of a worker for raising a qualified disclosure will be a disciplinary offence.
- 4.4 If misconduct is discovered as a result of any investigation under this procedure the matter will be considered under the disciplinary procedure, in addition to any appropriate external measures.
- 4.5 Maliciously making a false allegation is a disciplinary offence.
- 4.6 An instruction to cover up wrongdoing is in itself a disciplinary offence. If told not to raise or pursue any concern, even by a person in authority, employees should not agree to remain silent.

5.0 Procedure

- 5.1 In the first instance, unless the employee reasonably believes his/her Headteacher to be involved in the wrongdoing, any concerns should be raised with the employee's Headteacher. If s/he believes the Headteacher to be involved, then the employee should proceed straight to Stage 3 [see below Section 5.3].
- 5.2 The Headteacher/Chair of Governors will arrange an investigation into the matter [either by investigating the matter himself/herself or immediately passing the issue to someone in a senior position]. The investigation may involve the employee and others involved giving written statements. Any investigation will be carried out in accordance with the principles set out above. The employee's statement will be taken into account and s/he will be asked to comment on any additional evidence obtained.

Employees who want to use the procedure but feel uneasy about it may wish to consult their Professional Association/Trade Union initially and bring a colleague or Professional Association/Trade Union Representative along to any discussions, so long as the third party is not involved in the issue.

Where anonymity is requested efforts will be made to meet the request where appropriate but that might not always be possible. The earlier and more open the expression of concern the easier it will be to take appropriate action.

- 5.3 The Headteacher [or the person who carried out the investigation] will then report to the Chair of Governors/Governing Body who will take the necessary action, including reporting the matter to any appropriate department or regulatory agency. If disciplinary action is required, this will be taken forward by the Headteacher/Chair of Governors/Governing Body in consultation with the School's HR Manager. On conclusion of any investigation the employee will be told the outcome of the investigation and what the next steps will be. If no action is to be taken the reason for this will be explained.

If the employee is concerned that his/her Headteacher is involved in the wrongdoing, has failed to make a proper investigation or has failed to report the outcome of the investigation, s/he should inform the Chair of Governors. Employees who feel unable to follow this route, for whatever reason, have the option of contacting one of the following:

- Children's Social Care Services
- Police
- NSPCC
- The Health and Safety Executive
- The Environment Agency
- The Serious Fraud Office
- The Education and Skills Funding Agency
- The Office for Standards in Education
- The National College for Teaching and Leadership

6.0 What should be done if an issue is raised with a member of staff?

6.1 If a member of staff, other than the Headteacher, is approached by a colleague on a matter of concern as defined in this document, s/he is advised to take the matter to the Headteacher [see Section 5.0].

7.0 Safeguarding Children and Young People

7.1 All employees have a duty to report concerns about the safety and welfare of students.

7.2 Concerns about any of the following should be reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead [DSL]:

- Physical abuse of a student
- Sexual abuse of a student
- Emotional abuse of a student
- Neglect of a student
- An intimate or improper relationship between an adult and a student

The School's DSLs are Margot Currie and Prav Bassi.

7.3 The reason for the concern may be the actions of a colleague [including a more senior colleague], a Governor, another student or someone outside the School. Whatever the reason, concerns must be reported. Failure to report a Child Protection related allegation will be in itself, a disciplinary matter.

8.0 Law Relating to This Document

8.1 Employment Rights Act 1996
Public Interest Disclosures Act 1998

8.2 The legislation protecting individuals who make a protected disclosure applies not only to employees, but also to any person who undertakes to do or perform personally [or otherwise] any work or service for the employer, regardless of the nature of the contractual relationship between them.

- 8.3 A qualifying disclosure means any disclosure of information that in the reasonable belief of the worker is made in the public interest. While the employer can seek a declaration from the whistle blower that s/he is not knowingly making a false allegation, disciplinary action is likely to be appropriate only where there is clear evidence that the employee has misused the whistle blowing procedure. A consequence of the requirement that a disclosure be made in the public interest is that an employee will generally be precluded from being able to 'blow the whistle' about breaches of his or her employment contract.
- 8.4 Section 43J of the Employment Rights Act 1996 provides that a Settlement Agreement made between an employee and employer cannot prevent future protected disclosures.
- 8.5 Any confidentiality obligations in contracts of employment that would prevent an employee making a protected disclosure will be void.
